

Saladworks Adds Avocadolicious Salad

Saladworks is giving customers a big dose of hope this spring.

As part of Saladworks' signature series, celebrity Chef Hope Cohen created the Avocadolicious Salad which hit all franchise locations this April.

"I've always been a huge fan of Saladworks and their fresh selection of menu items," says Cohen. "My Avocadolicious Salad will be a favorite of customers looking for a refreshing and healthy meal this spring."

The Avocadolicious Salad is an invigorating blend of delicious vegetables featuring diced Hass Avocado, mandarin oranges, hearts of palm, grape tomatoes, sliced cucumbers, black olives, and garbanzo beans on top of our tender spring mix. The salad is topped with a zesty lemon dill vinaigrette dressing.

As part of the Signature Series, Saladworks donate $5,000 to the charity of the chef's choice. Cohen's charity is the Ronald McDonald Camp, a site in the Pocono Mountains for children age 7-19 that are currently or have been treated for cancer.

The Avocadolicious Salad is available at all 91 Saladworks locations June 30 when the next Signature Series salad is revealed.

Host of "The Chef's Kitchen" on CN8, Cohen has worked as a culinary consultant to many of Philadelphia's most popular restaurants including "Avenue B," "Bleu," "Rouge" and "Striped Bass."

The first installment of the signature series featured Chef Jim Coleman's Wild Alaskan Grilled Salmon Salad which became one of the most popular offerings at Saladworks.
